The Mission

The ASEM Education and Research Hub for Lifelong Learning (ASEM LLL Hub) aims to lead a research and policy agenda on lifelong learning in the ASEM region that addresses the various complexities of contemporary society. Today's challenges include those encountered by ordinary people in their day-to-day lives up to global ones. Lifelong learning allows individuals, communities and wider society to acquire learning throughout the lifecycle in everything from basic education to advanced skills and knowledge, in how to live with each other in a changing world and how to live our lives better.

Lifelong learning is the essential paradigm of the contemporary era. In this era skills, careers, where one might live, work and learn are predictable only to the extent that they are unpredictable, where technology, climate, migration, security and global health for instance are presenting ever new challenges. The concept of education being linear, divided into phases, having exit points and conclusions is no longer valid.

The ASEM LLL Hub offers Asia and Europe an unparalleled mechanism for engaging in high-level, policy oriented research on futures in lifelong learning, drawing on rich traditions and exciting new trends in both regions

Collaboration and partnership building will be the key mission of the ASEM LLL Hub. The Hub shall consolidate its mission to maintain an international network for research and policy engagement on lifelong learning. It shall include researchers, practitioners, policymakers and all lifelong learning stakeholders within this network with the aim of generating evidence-based outcomes to understand current trends and influence future directions in lifelong learning in the ASEM region.

Statement of Intent

1. Recognising that lifelong learning is one of the four priority areas of the ASEM Education Process and one of the four strategic objectives of the ASEM Education Strategy 2030, it is intended that the ASEM LLL Hub and the Research Networks shall have a significant role in building robust engagement between researchers, policy makers and stakeholders in identifying research topics and translating research results into policy recommendations.
2. The ASEM LLL Hub shall be oriented by a collaborative approach that ensures that all partners in learning and education have opportunities to engage, and that all regions of ASEM and their diverse populations are fairly represented.
3. The work of the ASEM LLL Hub shall be influenced in all its activities by the need to urgently address sustainable development as a transversal imperative, as expressed in the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). It shall be cognizant of global challenges, policies and international commitments especially as they relate to lifelong learning.
4. The ASEM LLL Hub shall be oriented to a vision of lifelong learning that helps enable people to thrive in a carbon-neutral, digital age; our approach goes beyond considerations of human capital to the broader dimensions of development and progress in living standards, including the rights and enabling environments that widen people's opportunities and improve their well-being (Work for a Brighter Future: Global Commission on the Future of Work, 2019).

5. Lifelong learning is key to helping prepare people to deal with the increasing complexity and unpredictability, not just of labour markets, but life on the planet. The ASEM LLL Hub research mission shall maintain a longer-term trajectory aimed at equipping learners for sustainable futures as we emerge from Covid-19, adapt to the Fourth Industrial Revolution, deal with climate change, mass migration and increased contingency.
6. The ASEM LLL Hub's programme of research and enquiry shall be aimed at enabling a dynamic lifelong learning context for all in the ASEM region. It will be a programme that supports all citizens to engage in learning through the lifecourse, modelled on a revision of the Delors Report adding learning to live with others to the existing four pillars of learning: learning to know, learning to do, learning to live together and learning to be.
7. The ASEM LLL Hub shall seek strategic partnerships with other organisations, like the ASEM Education Secretariat, the Asia-Europe Foundation (ASEF), and to support its mission and create synergies, for example by jointly organising activities and to support its mission to publish and disseminate the outcomes and outputs of its work as widely as possible.
8. The ASEM LLL Hub and the Asia-Europe Foundation (ASEF) shall develop a long-term partnership to enhance cooperation and synergies on areas of mutual interest and to reciprocally contribute to activities and processes of each organisation.
9. The ASEM LLL Hub shall be available as a consultancy resource for governments and global organisations in policy development on lifelong learning.

A Common Research Agenda

The Research Networks share a common interest in the research and policy agenda on lifelong learning in the ASEM region. This agenda fits within of the ASEM Education Process and relates to key global strategies such as the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals. It shall be cognisant of international policies related to lifelong learning emanating from UNESCO, the International Labour Organisation and other UN bodies, governmental and intergovernmental organisations and other key policies, reports and developments that impact lifelong learning in Asia and Europe.

Among the common themes that each Research Network shall consider are equity and inclusion; identity, respect and dignity; digital education and ICT; demographic trends such as ageing and migration; knowledge, policy and capacity building in lifelong learning across the ASEM region; and engagement with civil society and community based lifelong learning.
